Today no city of the size of the National Capital could long survive the deprivation of his form of transportation. Nothing more surely retards the growth and development of such a cit, us the fail-ure of its street railroads to keep pace with the increasing needs of its people in this respect. And when to this is added the consideration that it requires special and exclusive privileges in the occupation and use of public streets, avenues, and highways, for which special privileges in the District of Columbia neither the Federal nor the District governments has ever received any compensation, and they are likely to be made the basis of large claims of alleged franchis.

any compensation, and they are likely to be made the basis of large claims of alleged franchise character. Its monopoly features become even more apparent. These are offensive to modern thought upon the subject, and the irritating cause of an ever-increasing volume of criticism and complaint.

To leave to private profit, the performance of such a public function, resting, by necessity as it does, upon special privileges, and possessing the monopolistic characteristics, to which allusion, has been made, is to insure the maintenance of a struggle between public duty and public needs on the one hand, and private interest and profit on the other, that in the nature of things grows sharper with the passing years, and in the opinion of the Commissioners no amount of 'regulation' by public suthorities, accomplished only after the law's delays are over, will end the irrepressible conflict that necessarily arises when the avarice of man is set egainst a public duty that is laid upon him to perform.

A Private Profit.

"This aspect of the matter may be stated in homelier phrase. The management of a street railroad privately owned and operated is chiefly concerned collecting as many fares and at as in collecting as many fares and at as low a cost to the company as possible and this for the obvious purpose of making the largest dividend returns for its stockholders—that is private profit. The presengers are chiefly concurned in obtaining the largest number of rides and money—that is the most efficient public service. If this public service is performed by public authorities they can have no other motive than to do these labors, that the traveling public dethings that the traveling public de-leands. They have but to maintain a proper relation between efficient service nd the cost thereof.

"The municipal ownership and operation of street railroads is no longer in the experimental stage. The Old World has long since demonstrated the world has long since demonstrated the visdom and great practical advantages the best service for the least amount of utilities, and at least one large city in this county. New Orleans, has for a number of years shown with what notelectes it can be accomplist able success it can be accompanied.
Furthermore, the present Congress has within a few weeks enacted a law under which the National Government will build and may operate a railroad for Alarka, thus evidencing its own confidence in the principle, at least, of the bill under consideration.

Lines Are Parallel.

"It may be urged in opposition to The may be urged in opposition to this bill, that regulation of such public utilities should first be tried under the law enacted a year ago, creating a public utilities commission for the District of Columbia, but it should be pointed out, in addition to what has already been said in this connection, that there exists in the District two street railroad systems, which for considerable distance parallel one another and needlessly duplicate much of the service, each system residers. This condition will undoubtedly render more difficult and perplexing such regulation as the commission may be able to offect, and increases the complexity t oeffect, and increases the complexity

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Gives Simple Home Prescrip-Which She Used With Most Remarksble Results.

Remarksble Results.

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious and from my own experience I cannot too strengly caution you against using and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wool alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures. I finally found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it, and obtsined wonderful effects therefrom it my only ten ful effects therefrom, it not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dardruft, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class con-dition. It also makes the hair caster to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows:

Bay Rum, 6 oz.: Menthol Crystals, 15 drachm, Lavona de Compasee, 2 oz. If you like it perfumed, add 1 frachm of your favorite perfume, This, however, is not necessary. Apply night and meraing: rub thoroughly into the scalp.—Advt.

THE GREAT PAIN REMEDY Antikamnia Tablets

Relief of Pain Are you in pain? You will probably ask this question more frequently than any other. Nothing appeals to one more strongly. To be able to relieve pain, whether it be a slight nervous headache or the most excruciating suffering from a severe neuralgia, brings the height of pleasure to both patient and attendant. The ideal remedy must not only do its work, but must also do it quickly. Touching this point in an article in the Bosion Medical and Surgical Reporter, Hugo Engel, A. M., M. D., says: "Anti-kamnia (A-K) Tableta have become favorites with many members of the profession. They are very reliable in all kinds of pain and as quickly acting as a hypodermic injection of morphia. They are used only internally. To stop pain only one tablet is administered at once; ten minutes later the dose is repeated, and if necessary, a third dose given ten minutes after the second. In 92 per cent of all cases it immediately stops the pain." For the pains peculiar to women at time of period, two Anti-kamnia

Tablets taken with a little wine or hot toddy, or without if objected to, give immediate relief. Two Anti-kamnia Tablets are of greatest value in cases of nervous disturbances due to excessive eating or drinking. The Cry of the Nerves

"I use little opium or morphia, for the reason that these drugs, by locking up the secretions, limit the power of elimination and thereby favor septicaemia. For over a year past, where pain and rise of temperature were present. I have used Antikamnia Tablets in two tablet doses, with happiest effects."

Prompt relief, unaccompanied by unpleasant after-effect, is what the up-to-date doctor desires most in these cases. If the pain is over the lower border of the liver, or lower part of the stomach, or in short, be it headache, sideache, backache, or pain of any other description caused by suppressed or irregular menstruation, it will usually yield to two Anti-kamnia Tablets. This dose may be repeated in an hour or two if needed.

For the general nervous irritation and misery accompanying the Menopause (Change of Life), Amenorrhoea, Menstruation and Women's Aches and Ills generally, Anti-kamnia Tablets are unsurpassed. In the above conditions and also in the severe headaches of mothers, nurses, teachers, students and bookkeepers, in abort for all headaches caused by anxiety. close attention, mental strain or worry, as well as shoppers' or sightseem' headache, the dose for an adult is one or two Anti-kamnia Tablets every three or four hours.
